

Contact

David has now moved to industry, but is always happy to answer any questions or queries related to his academic research. Please contact him using the details below.

He is also very interested to hear any views and opinions on different WtE strategies. Are you someone who supports a local approach at community level or do you support a large and centralised plant for a county's WtE needs?

Are you an organisation which has a use for heat or a waste disposal requirement?
